Lindaluz [00:00:00] Aids Epidemic. Yeah. Yeah, it's affecting a lot of cultures, you know, it wasn't just, you know, one particular and I think, you know, the stereotype was that all this specific group of people, we're gay, I'm trans. But you know, it didn't impact a lot of people, a lot of people from different cultures. I is building awareness of that.

Lindaluz [00:00:21] It's not just one group. All right. Yeah, it's really cool. Yeah, I wonder I had the years. Yeah.

Lindaluz [00:00:30] Oh, look, it's Victor Pacheco. All that's. All right. So yeah, another Mirabai, Victor Pacheco. So, you know, if I want to bring in 1999, right? In 2010. Yeah. So that's that's him. Okay, right. Yeah. I think it'd be cool to, like, connect with him at some point and talk about his experience coming up in Hartford and, you know, creating work. And maybe other stuff that he's working on now. You think he lives in

Lindaluz [00:01:02] Typekit in Massachusetts? Yeah, yeah. You probably find them on Facebook or something. I got a good photo.
